Breakdown per region

The UPMF has signed over 150 partnerships with foreign universities, in addition to the Erasmus mobility conventions.

These agreements encourage cooperation in the field of pedagogy or research, and their breakdown per region reflects the international activity of the university.

REGION	Proportion of our partnerships (apart from Erasmus conventions)
South America	24%
PECO (Central and Eastern Europe)	22%
Europe	15%
North America	12%
Asia	9%
Africa	5%

Topics

The UPMF works more particularly with certain countries, focusing on two major development axes:

1 - To maintain and consolidate the partnerships that already exist in four priority areas relative to specific topics and subjects:

Geographical areas	Subjects	Topics
Spanish-speaking South America / Brazil	Management, law, economics, political sciences, sociology, industrial engineering	Regional integration and local development
PECO (Central and Eastern Europe), Russia	Law, economics, management, political sciences, town planning, history	Economic transition, democratic transition, construction of Europe
Mediterranean area (Algeria, Morocco) Africa	Economics, management, teaching sciences, psychology at work	Reinforcement of national skills, management of human resources
Italy, Switzerland, Austria	History, history of art	European Alpine countries

2 - To ensure geographical diversification either to develop projects already tested by similar players elsewhere, or to create new cooperation partnerships.

Geographical areas	Subjects	Topics
Vietnam, China	Applied economics, management, industrial engineering	Integration of social sciences in the syllabus of engineers and senior technicians
European Union and Slovakia	Town planning, development, administration	Town planning and land management
India	Economics	Industrial engineering
